

TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY
HEALTH SCIENCES CENTER™
Paul L. Foster School of Medicine

Department of Surgery

October 20, 2011

RE: Assistant Professor / Pediatric Surgeon

Dear Program Director:

The Department of Surgery at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center at El Paso is seeking a third pediatric surgeon to join the Pediatric Surgery Division. Applicants should have a strong interest in medical student/resident education and clinical practice. Academic rank and salary will be commensurate with previous clinical, teaching, research and administrative experience.

TTUHSC's Surgery Department is affiliated with University Medical Center of El Paso. The hospital has begun a $300 million renovation project to include construction of a Children's Hospital on the campus that will open in February, 2012.

The general surgery residency program is fully accredited and graduates three chief residents per year. The Health Sciences Center is also expanding with the recent opening of its four-year medical school. This is a unique opportunity in which a dynamic individual can participate in establishing the foundation of a new medical school.

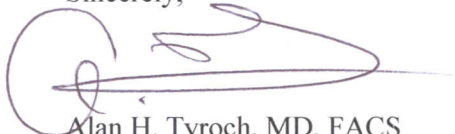

Qualified applicants must have or be eligible for a Texas license and be board certified or board eligible in pediatric surgery.

Interested applicants must apply online at <http://jobs.texas-tech.edu> (job requisition #83493). Questions may be directed to:

Alan H. Tyroch, M.D.
Texas Tech University HSC-El Paso
Department of Surgery
4800 Alberta Avenue
El Paso, Texas 79905
Phone (915)545-6864 or E-mail: alan.tyroch@ttuhsc.edu

The position is open until filled. Application review will begin immediately. Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read 'Alan H. Tyroch', with a large, stylized flourish extending to the right.

Alan H. Tyroch, MD, FACS
Professor & Chair of Surgery