UNOFFICIAL AD TEXT:

The Department of Surgery at the Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania seeks candidates for an Assistant Professor position in the non-tenure academic-clinician track. The successful applicant will have experience in the field of urology with a focus on stone disease, oncology and minimally invasive surgery including ureteroscopy, percutaneous renal surgery, laparoscopy and robotic surgery. Responsibilities include surgical and non-surgical care of patients with general urological complaints and teaching of medical students and urology residents. Applicants must have an M.D. or M.D./Ph.D. or equivalent degree. Candidates must also be certified by the American Board of Urology or eligible for such certification.

The clinical practice for this position will be housed primarily at Pennsylvania Hospital, the nation's oldest hospital and a fully integrated member of the University of Pennsylvania Health System. The successful applicant will have demonstrated expertise in all areas of outpatient and inpatient urology. Two-year fellowship training is a must.

The University of Pennsylvania is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. Women and minority candidates are strongly encouraged to apply.
